

School of Our Lorde

An Eternal Summer of the Black Feminist Mind Experience brought to you by BrokenBeautiful Press.

(pedagogy)

“The teaching of poetry is the teaching of survival.”

-Audre Lorde “Poetry Makes Something Happen”

You:

Who are you? What leads you to want to take this course? What would you like to achieve by the end of this unit on Lorde’s teaching. (No partial credit ☺)

What are needs that we should be aware of as we prepare the course?

What is your contact information?

Those Who Learn, Teach!

At Eternal Summer of the Black Feminist Mind we believe that education is eternal when it is accountable to communities and community supported. We ask that each School of Our Lorde Participant ask at least 7 of their loved ones or community members to support their participation at the level that they can. Our goal is for each participant to raise between $50-200 for each unit. You can also contribute a scholarship named after a loved one towards someone else's participation.

Who You Talk To

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____

How Much to Ask

- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____
- $ _____

Donations are due at the second meeting of the session.